

“SPIORAD AN PHOBAIL- COMMUNITY SPIRIT”

Irish Summer is here-the beginning of summer in the ancient Celtic calendar-Bealtaine- May! We wanted to bring our community together in a way that symbolises hope for the future and what would be better than decorating the village with some colourful bunting

Inspired by Ar Scáth a Chéile – a community project in Dingle, we’re asking members of our community of Rathcoole to make a flag of hope for the future. Once collected flags, will be sewn together to make bunting that will be put up around the village, celebrating Bealtaine and our hopes for the future will be carried on the wind- just like the prayer flags in Tibet

Tips and instructions for making the flags can be found on this link- (hold down the CTRL key and click with your mouse) <https://deirdremckenna.com/ar-scath-a-cheile-a-community-project/>

Please let us know if you as an individual or as a group will be making flags so we can co-ordinate a drop off point at brat.flag2021@gmail.com

We are aiming to put the bunting up the Bank Holiday weekend in June
